SIGNATORY SHEET

I, the undersigned, endorse the significance, originality and importance of the work that forms the project to complete the DProf learning programme for Mrs NL (Sunny) Stout Rostron, student number 2248910.

The focus of the project is to conduct research in relation to what it is that happens, not just in the moment of intervention between coach and client (that moment of change), but what it is that helps to create a transformational shift in thinking, feeling and behaviour on the part of the client during the coaching conversation. The intention is to research how the client's narrative unfolds during the coaching conversation in relation to the coach's questions and interventions. The research will analyse the coaching conversation, and more specifically the language used by both coach and client as the client's narrative unfolds.

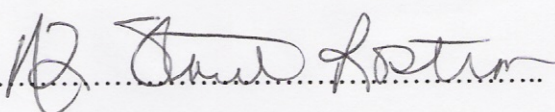

The project is for 140 credit points.
