The people of Docklands have always had to fight to make the best of appalling conditions – and to change them.

My ears hear the truth

My eyes see what people think

I live on top of the sun. There's just me and my twin Zip. I wear black flares and starry shirt. I can see the whole world on my shirt. I have an invisible hat. My trousers turn into anything. I am 10 years old in your world, 100 in mine.

People have more experience than the young generation, but technology is advancing rapidly. They are not alone in looking for ways to be part of the green revolution.

Tom Dine, 92, is one of the members of Age Concern's 'Geezer Power' club, an initiative which aims to 'renew' the power of older people by giving them the skills and knowledge to make a difference.
